Message from the Chairman of UOB Group Art Committee

As the leading patron of art in Asia, UOB sees the value of art in its power to unify and to heal. It connects us across space, time, language and culture, opening our minds to a world of possibilities, even in times of difficulty.

This year, the pandemic has stood in the way of our communities being able to access and to appreciate art. UOB has not let that stop us from championing Southeast Asian art, just as we have for the past four decades. This year, we introduced the theme of Solidarity for our regional flagship art programme, the UOB Painting of the Year (POY) competition. Through the artists, we hoped to send a positive message in the global fight against the pandemic and to draw out the importance of staying united in trying times.

Across the region, we turned our physical programmes into digital ones. In May, we launched the UOB Art Explorer – a regional online programme with a full suite of art tutorials, art therapy sessions and virtual exhibitions. It brings the benefits of art to everyone in real time. We designed it to help promote mental well-being.

During the year, we also held art exhibitions at the UOB Art Gallery in Singapore to profile the UOB POY artists and their works. In Indonesia, we collaborated with our alumni UOB POY artists to hold a virtual exhibition. Part of the sales proceeds went to local artists impacted by the pandemic.

Now in its 39th year, the UOB POY programme continues to uncover artistic talent from across Southeast Asia. We extended our reach through an online portal for participants to submit their entries easily. Participation was strong across the region with artists sharing their real life experiences of solidarity.

We believe it is essential to encourage the talented to pursue their passion. The UOB POY will turn 40 next year. UOB will persevere in nurturing the next generation of great Southeast Asian artists.

Congratulations to all the winners and thank you to our esteemed judges and partners who have helped make our journey in art possible. Let's stay united in our appreciation for art and in solidarity with the art community.

Message from Guest-of-Honour

I am glad that we continue to hold the UOB Painting of the Year competition amidst the COVID-19 pandemic. This year's theme, Solidarity, resonates in these difficult times. Art has the power to uplift our spirits, strengthen our resilience, and bring people together. During this crisis, many artists and arts groups have also come together to support one another, collaborate on new initiatives, and give back to the community.

Corporates like UOB have continued their support so that Singapore's arts scene can weather this storm and emerge stronger. I thank UOB for its strong support of this annual art competition. Over the last 39 years, the UOB Painting of the Year competition has supported many regional artists and has given our people the opportunity to appreciate exciting new works from the region. This year's winning entries are artistic expressions of our shared experiences, encouraging and bringing people together in times of adversity.

Congratulations to the winners of the 2020 UOB Painting of the Year competition! I wish you every success in your artistic endeavours.

Mr Heng Swee Keat

Singapore Deputy Prime Minister, Coordinating Minister for Economic Policies and Minister for Finance

2020 UOB Painting of the Year UOB ART GALLERY

UOB Art Gallery

The UOB Art Gallery in Singapore was set up to support local and regional artists, and to share their art with the wider community.

Located at the heart of the Central Business District, the UOB Art Gallery is a place where members of the public can appreciate works from the UOB Art Collection and winning artworks from the UOB Painting of the Year competition. From time to time, we use the Gallery as a space for exhibitions by the competition's winning artists, guest artists and community partners.

We invite you to visit the UOB Art Gallery at the ground floor of UOB Plaza 1 or www.UOBandArt.com to view the winning paintings.
